MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1885.

FOREIGN WAR AND AMERICAN TRADE. There is much speculation by the press of the country as to the probable effects of a foreign war upon American industry and trade. Opinand Russia would greatly stimulate business in America. Yet closer study of the subject suggests doubts. What our people here are specially interested in is the effect of war most the wheat market. We have heretofore presented some considerations on this subject. The New York Financial Chronick, a journal regarded is high authority in matters of industry and the influence of such a war upon the prices of American breadstuffs and provisions. In short it argues that war between England and Russia denumercial condition is through its influence upon the volume of our foreign trade, it proceeds to discuss the question whether a war will result in a material increase of our exportations. "Some indication of the above to this question may be gathered," says the Chronicle, "from the may be gathered," says the Chronkle, "from the history of the last two great wars in Europe—the Franco-derman in 1870-1, and the Russo-Tarkish war in 1877. The former war broke cut in July, 1870. It had the effect to put up the premium on gold several points, but the maximum price of gold was reached within a week after the ideclaration of war, and from that point it gradually fell back nearly to the price that prevailed in the service and says units. price that prevailed in thespring and early summer of the year. The prices of stocks had a slight flurry, but the excitement was soon ove Upon the grain and provision trade the war seems to have had acurcely any effect. The exu 1869-70 were larger by one and a quarter mil-Homs bushels than they were during the war year 1870-71. The exportation of core was pro-portionately increased, but the trade in that cereal was only begun at that date and the aggregate of the larger exportation was not im-portant. Taking all cereals together the in-creased export was only sprea million bushels, with an average price per bushel 13 cents less than in the previous year. In bacon and hams and land the increase was also comparatively large, but this was not even chiefly due to the war. The trade was then just becoming im-portant." "But a better example," continues the Chron-

war upon prices. It affected the stock market very slightly, but it caused the widest fluctuations in grain and provisions. At the end of the month before war was declared, on March 36, 1877, No. 2 flour was quoted at $4 65 to $5 5. No. 3 spring wheat at $1 35 to $1 42; and western mixed corn at 54 to 57 cents. War was de-clared April 24. On April 27 flour stood at $6 to to $7 15; wheat at $1 70 to $1 77; and corn at in to 71 cents. A month later floor was at $1 to $5; wheat at $1 50 to $1 50; and corn at 51 to to the war. And by the end of the year, with a better wheat crap in 1877, flaur was down to $5 to $4 15; wheat $1 27 to $1 30; and corn 58 to to cents. The temporary and exceedingly brief boom in prices stopped experts instantly, but the decline caused them to be resumed. So encouragement whatever for our wild apeculators is to be found in any of these figures. Notwith-standing the war, the year's average price of wheat declined, of corn declined, and of all cereals declined. The result will differ some what on this excession, should war result, but solely because breadstuffs values have been rul-ing below the creat of production. Let them ap-preciate sufficiently be cover such cost, with per-haps a small profit, and at once the surplus stocks in all producing countries which have showed last week, to supply the present demand, while outside of the United States crop prosbreadstuffs, and increased our export but little. War between England and Eussia will change the conditions chiefly in so fur as it may stop the Russian export and thereby create an additional demand upon other countries. Much, of course, would depend on the duration of the war. If it should be protracted beyond a year we might expect greater benefits from it in corporations," is one of great public interest not so as to impair or destroy any vested corpor-ate lights." Pursuant to this section of the be deemed common carriers, and shall have tion, under this law, is a valuable vested right of the corporation. They adout that this right s subject to the implied limitation that the rates so fixed shall be reasonable, but chain that the "for to hold otherwise," they say, "would be to declare that one of the parties to the contract could arbitrarily settle and determine the very question which by the fair terms of the contract was intended by both parties to be referred to the judiciary; thus imposing its own will upon the other party as to a valuable right, without any opportunity being a fooded such other parts, to aver of present that the rates "Xed by the compen-ation of the property of the compen-

are onlight to the same legislates amorrished and coulted as ordinary carriers at compact (co-This has been settled by the courts of the lead ing commercial states, and of the University. In the so-rulled "Granger Cusas" the sourcers court of the United States held that wherea rational charter contains no limitation upon the power of the sinte to regulate its rates of fare and freight, it may do so, although the constraint does not reserve the power to alter or amoud charters and that when such a charter gives the compact power to fix its own races of compensation, sub-ject to such rules and regulations as the legisla-ture may prescribe, if no regulation is made by law, the rules made by the company are subject only to be controlled by the courts when controversies may arise as to what is a reasona ble charge. But when the legislature has acted the rules fixed by it must prevail; and when the legislature has fixed a maximum rate a railroad company cannot recover more than that rate is showing that it was no more than reasonable for the services rendered; and finally, where the constitution of a state reserves to the legislature the power to alter or repeal acts of incorpora tion at any time it may prescribe a maximum rate of charges for fares and freight although the charter of the road has authorized it to demand or receive such sum or sums of money for the same as it should deem reasonable. These decisions are but recognitions of the principle that railread companies are common carriers, subject to control and regulation by law, except when they are protected by contracts of exemption which cannot be impaired by state legislation. The question presented by the petition of the nttorners of the Oregon and California road is this seen to be a very narrow one. The onsiffution of this state imposes but one restriction upon the power of the legislature to alter, amend or repeal laws for the regulation and control of railway companies, and that is, substantially, the federal prohibition, as it is interpreted in the flucturous college case. The question is simply this, did the Oregon and California initinad company acquire a vested corporate right under the law of 1870, which is impaired or perturyed by the act of February, 1885. It is not doubted that the constitution reserves to the legislatured he power to alter or repeal the former law, which gave the initial way conformation proper to collect and receive such tells or freights, for transportation of popeous or proper'y theiron as it may prescribe," provided it does not impair or destroy any vested corporate rights. It le admitted that the rower to prescribe rates for transportation is subject to the limitation that the rates must be reasonable. But the supreme court has held that having this power to after, amend of repeal, the legislature may prescribe a maximum rate notwithstanding the fact that the railway common was authorized to prescribe such rates as i any was subhofized to prescribe such fates as its hould deep reasonable. The question then is, by what authority is it to be decided whether the rates and reasonable for not? Decisions of the supreme fourt of the United States seem plainly to hold that this authority is lodged with the legislature. Our legislature has noted, and hence if these views are correct, the question whether the rates fixed by the company in case the read should still high to his own fractes are reasonable or not is insist on its own rates; are reasonable or not is Lo longer a question to be determined by the court as a guide we do not see how the judic-lary can review the legislative action in this

It is well known to the readers of THE CHE-CONTAN that we fild not approve the method of controlling the railroads attempted by this law, but since the decision of the grangers' cases, it has seemed no longer a question that the state has the authority to exercise this direct control over them. It is rather a question of policy. A rigid law, fixing maximum rates, and allowing the railroads no freedom to adapt their charges to particular necessities, which may arise in the varying course of business, has never satisfied even its nevertee. Experience is thus far wholly in favor of the indirect nethod of supervision through commissioners appointed by the state to hear complaints and make public recommendations for their relief. In Massachusetts, where this muthod has had a fair trial the most satisfactory results have been attained. But the legislature has exercised its discretion in adopting the jother course, and now we believe, as General drant once said of an unwise law, that the best war to secure its repeal will be to en

THE GROWING CROPS.

Reports from all the grain-producing districts Reports from all the grain-producing districts of Oregon and Washington, made by hereous specially commissioned by this journal to investigate the matter, indicate that the acreage is in the neighborhood of 10 per cent, greater than last year. The difficulty is getting any report other than a nicreligness, and the uncertainty of even the noil rareful estimate, will easily be appreciated. It is, of course, not possible to get exact figures respecting matters of which noexact figures respecting matters of which no that right is repeating matters of which he body can have exact knowledge. Our esti-mate is bused upon the opinions of practical famore who have been donsulted by our own reporters. The principal gain has been in easi-ern Washington, where much land never helper cropped has been sown to wheat, in the regions about Willa Walla and Payton especially, the increase is important, and is quite noticeable even to the traveler who hardes through by rail. In some neighborhoods the increased cropping is said to be so per cont, and wil think it certainly no exaggeration to put the apprage for the whole at 90 per cent. The spring rains have been longer delayed than the farmers could have wished, but there is as yet to dis-fless. The situation, borever, is somewhat critical, and the people are hoping eagerly for ration.

valless is about 14 per cost, greater than last year, the increised being in the heart of the Wi-lamette valley, and due to the needing of fields which last year lay fallow. The necessities of the country have forced many farmers to plant their whole area, when under ordinary circumstances much of it would be allowed the rest it really needs. In the lower counties of Checkamas, Marion, Washington, Yamhill and Polk the bulk of the planting is fall sown and in a much more advanced. vanced stage than those districts where spring sowing is the custom. In the middle counties of Liun, Benton and Lane the spring and fall sowings are nearly equal, and further south the spring sowing in largely in excess.

Raid Is needed everywhere, but particularly south of Salem. The rairs have been heavier in the north diminishing in quantity southward till, at Eigeno Cty, there has been scarcely nore than a springle since the first of March, In the Unique valley, too, there has been but little rain, and the conthorn counties of Jackson and Josephine are dry almost beyond preci-dent. If the prevailing samp and, dry weather should continue longer than ten days from this date, the effect will be a serious damage to the crops, amounting, in the southerly counties almost to disaster fields in Linn county are atready slightly "fired" and there are many spring fiel clur-ther south which have not had a drop dt rain since they were solve. White there is no occaion for serious alarm, it is fille to say there is no danger at all.

The fruit and vegetable groups worth are less dependent than the grain fields upon the weather are everywhere of the best promise. The season of trost and I ail is past and froit has reached a stage where it cannot fall even under the worst conditions likely to come about.

There seems to be no question but that the Kenny liquid lay, enacted by the last logislature, is practically of moneffect, through his failure to provide a hemaly for solling liquor without a liceuse in dinner protated towns or in incorporated towns where there is no local regulation of the traffic. As the liquor laws now stand, there is a populty for violating the liceuse law, but no penalty for celling without a liceuse. Thus, the saloon keeper, who pure the $300 fee tradically the new law, is limbe to certain penalties which do keeper, who pays the $300 fee required by the new law, is liable to certain pseudities which do not apply to the sidler without licenses. We learn that it is the Intention of the sidler without feet a direct their case the outboar liber internal decreases when their current decreases exhibit without renewing them in a ladeed, they we made her very bodies to lake any other center. We have tight hand the tightes showing just have much the stati will use in the way of recover under two fears of no license but the chor under two jears of no license, but the an out will be very considerable, much greater that would be the cost of an extra session of the legislature II it should be called by re-nodel the Keady law. Governor Moody, it is said, will be unged to beconvene the legislature for this controsse.

WOOL—Market shows no change and eastern Pregon is quoted firm at tagific. The New York regon is quoted firm at LEGILC. The New York hipping List of the 18th inst says. While other rading commodities such as cereals cotton (Lc, ave been moving with considerable freedom under the influence of European war news, the mar-ket for this stuple has relained a quiet and tame tor the stage of the man trained in quote and tame pearance consumers purchasing for current attenty, and the trude generally showing a dis-sistion to await further developments in garding a new city. In prices there has been no essen at thange flue combing and other desirable de-rictions showing firmness while low and interior ades, which are in abundant supply and not exames which are in annual supply and not wanted to an) great extent are difficult to move except at concessions. It is expected that must month new clip tellifornia and Truss will be availmonth new clip california and T was will be as all-able but it is feared that the anxlety of eastern buyers will have a tendency to moduly enhance values and interfere materially with the restora-tion of trade upon a legitimate and substantial basis. The remark made to us by one of the mem-bers of a leading firm that the res a fresh cope of idiots every year or pertinent and has been am-ply verified in past sussons I is a runnered that one or two clips in Texass have been disposed of but particulars have not transpired SALMON—If all accounts respecting the salmon interest as it is now conditioned be worth notice this industry along or relvers is in a poor condi-tion. However there are not wanting signs that indicate a desire on the part of canners to curtail indicate a desire on the part of canners to curtail pack this season in the hope of bottering values. The lew canners now working are paying 50 cents. The low canners now working are paying '0 cents per fish and see no way of increasing the figure, much as they would desire to in order that fisher men could find the work profitable. One thousand cases of a good brand sold lately in Liverpool at 16s ad which means a trifle less than $3.60 per case. For the best interests of this valuable minustry, it is hoped that a short pack will be the rule this year. The erroneous quotation lately printed brought a tetter from a stockhodder in one of the principal stock companies on the river and as there is nothing in the latter that need be withheld we present the letter. Probably everthody interes ed in chaning on the lower to fumbia notified then tend of the 15th inst., in your report. Those capiers who had sold part and valuly odd avored to pitepose of all their salmoin in England at 184. phispose of all their salmon in England at 164 8d and 188 felt sick. That together with the spatched duly sent from New York about the sixtemplated war in Europe roused the fisherment thought to a stelling. displacemental sear. For one new 107x about the coltemplated war in Europe roused the disherment alricest to a striking point. Times were never known to be so hard with the canning interests as now. It is an established fact that probably not more than haif a dozen of the canners are better than brackrupt, and if all the cannerses run which is doubtful it will be only because the agents will be touched to the transition of the same that it is a case over 500 600 packed the coming seasan the sheriffs will have plenty to do when August comes I am a pitali fishermani who has lost his till in a shock company and perhaps I am incompletent to present or suggest a solution to the difficulty but it does seem to me that if the canners were was they would pull not half their boats and pack one half what they did last year. Then they would stand a chance of getting a better price than it is possible to secure to-day. The dishermen could afford to fish much cheaper. It would weed out in competent men the canners would only give boats to the best men and the best fisherms in would have a above of making something whereas the competition among the fisher in it is now so great that it is an after impossibility for the imagority at head it seen, to make sait.
